How They View it in Europe.

It is well for men and nations to be regardful of the good opinions of others, not with an overweening pride and vanity, but with a just degree of self-respect, and an ambition to do well; because thus, and thus alone, can they be discharged whose least reward is the approval of the wise and virtuous. That the ill opinion of our fellow men, or rather a wholesome fear of their ill opinion, may sometimes deter us from an evil purpose, or stimulate to the performance of good actions, is so common an observation that it will hardly be disputed.

We do not feel quite sure, however, that any general maxim will apply to the remarks of the London journals upon Mr.
President Buchanan's Message, and the temper in which those remarks are received by some of the presses on this side of the Atlantic,—though it is rather to this latter point that our attention has been directed.

Our transatlantic brethren seem to think that the President, in his anxiety to regulate the affairs of the world in general, has aimed at overlooking those of his own country. They dwell especially on the fact—which, we must confess, struck us with no slight measure of disgust, in our first perusal of the message—of the unusual number of national controversies which we have on hand, no light inference from which fact can well be to our credit. And, finally, the language of Mr. Buchanan relative to the acquisition of Cuba seems to have excited a good deal of ill feeling not only in London but among the conductors of the press in the French capital.

The observations of these European journals are being widely copied and commented on in this country. That they do not give much satisfaction to the partisans of the Administration is evident enough; but it does not exactly follow that the views thus taken of the Message by foreigners are altogether unreasoning and unjust, nor that it would be unwise to learn some lessons of prudence and philosophy from the opinions of others. "It is good (says the proverb) to learn, even from an enemy." But certainly our American politicians do not seem to act as though they believed it. They lay claim to Cuba, Mexico, or Nicaragua, on the score of "manifest destiny," or some such empty humbug —and if anybody ventures to suggest a doubt as to the entire propriety of the claim, blood and thunder! they are ready to fight, and able to whip, all creation.
Such is the position of Congressional wind-bags, and of editorial windbags, gaseous and pectusous.

But what sort of sense and patriotism is there in these exhibitions? Is this the wisdom and discretion that is requisite to the guidance and happiness of a great nation? Is such the way to secure the essential well-being and prosperity of our people, and the permanence of our free institutions? Far enough from it, in our estimation. Such unwisdom and fool-hardiness must be practically discarded, and we must adopt the divine maxim that "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

U. S. Cutter Washington, did not sail, as we stated yesterday, on account of her leading pipes and pumps being out of order. Mr. N. M. Chiles informs us that they are now in order, and that she will probably be ready for a cruise to-day.

CURIOUS SCIENTIFIC FACTS.—A slight blow is sufficient to smash a whole pane of glass, while a bullet from a gun will only make a small round hole in it; because in the latter case the particles of glass that receive the blow, are torn away from the remainder with such rapidity that the motion imparted to them has no time to expand into. A door standing open, which would readily yield to a single gentle push, is not moved by a cannon ball passing through it. The ball in passing through the door, the whole force of compression among the atoms of wood, but its force was so great, it was not sufficient to effect the motion of the door to an extent to produce motion. The cohesion of the part of the wood cut out by the ball would have borne a very great weight and quietly upon it, but suppose the door to fly in the face of twelve hundred feet in a second, and the door to be one inch thick, the cohesion being sufficient to act only the minute fraction of a second, its influence is not perceived. As an effect of this same phenomenon, the iron heart of a hammer may be driven down on its wooden handle by striking the opposite end of the handle against any hard substance with force and speed. In this very singular operation, the motion is propagated so suddenly through the wood of the handle, that it is as if the force it can reach the iron heart, without therefore, by its own weight, make holes in the handle at every blow, which drives the handle up.

There are shed at Savannah, green pose at St. Augustine, and yellow liver at Tampa.

Two men have been arrested in Philadelphia for attempting to cut a man's throat with a saw driver.

SPIRITUAL LECTURE.—We learn that Mrs. Henderson, the celebrated Spiritualist and speaking medium, will lecture in this city on Friday evening, at Masonic Hall. It will be remembered that Mrs. H. lectured in this city two years since before large audiences.

Observe the advertisement of the NEW YORK LEDGER, in another column.— Mr. Bonner is certainly determined not to be outdone by any other publisher in the attractions which he presents to his subscribers.

GOOD TOBACCO.—Our friends who love the weed would do well to read the advertisement in to-day's paper of Lorillard, the prince of tobaccoists.

LET US BE CAUTIOUS. Let us be cautious as to lottery transactions. There are thousands of people who will try their luck for a fortune in the lottery, and under these circumstances it is our duty to call their attention to such lotteries as are conducted honestly. There are many bogus lottery concerns in the United States, all of which are duly shown up in the New York Herald. Of the Maryland State Lottery, managed by R. France & Co., that paper says:

[From the New York Herald, December 26.]
The Maryland State Lottery, which is considered the most substantial lottery in the country, and which is carried on under a legal charter, conducts its drawings in a very simple manner, and it is always attended by a large number of persons. Near the wheel, the commissioner is elected by the people, conducts the drawing as required by the charter. The commissioner is in numbers to make it public as soon as the numbers are opened from the tin tube, and the drawing without his signature is illegal. The commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries always issues a certificate of each drawing.
And the result of each drawing in Maryland, is known in almost every city just as soon as the result can be telegraphed over the wire.
A drawing of this lottery will come off on the 29th of January. The scheme embraces 30,316 prizes, and the chief prize (a whole ticket for a chance at which costs but $30, halves and quarters in proportion) is $62,580. Other numerous prizes go to some of $12,500, down by regular gradations, to $100. Orders are to be addressed to R. France & Co., Baltimore Md.

Political.

The grossest frauds, in connection with the Oregon and Washington War Debt, have been brought to light by the House Committee on Military Affairs, through the efforts of Mr. Faulkner, of Virginia, the Chairman. The whole debt, as reported by the Government agents, is about $6,000,000, of which the Committee assert that not more than about one million is justly due.
Some of the charges by this difference is made are most outrageous. Pistols are charged at $65 each; muskets at $125; coats at $5 a bushel; hay at $120 a ton, and other things in proportion. At the last session of Congress, when the debt was first brought to the notice of the Committee the War department recommended its payment, but Mr. Faulkner caused action on the matter to be deferred, in order that it might be fully investigated. By this delay and investigation, the somewhat considerable sum of four to five millions will be saved to the Treasury.

Mr. Douglas is regarded as having surrendered to the Administration, or rather to its most efficient manager, Seward, both in entering the party caucus so promptly, and in having subscribed to its test, so much more readily than even the respected and accepted Southern Senators were willing to do. This humiliating concession on his part, will not propitiate the favor of the President in the least, who has a constitutional repugnance to such forgiveness, as would restore their former relations. Nor will it do much to elevate him in the estimation of those whose personal devotion to his cause, involved the sacrifice of all favor and terms with the Administration.
And he will discover that the animosity of his rivals, will not have been diminished in the least by these present overtures for conciliation and oblivion of their recent estrangement.—Washington Corr. Baltimore Amv.

RE-ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF CON-GRESS.—There is much good common sense in the following remarks in the N. Y.
Independent on the subject of re-electing members of Congress. One great reason why the South have held and retained such a superiority in Congress, has been owing to the greater experience of their members.
They invariably re-elected them, as long as they wish to remain the station, and thus their members carry from one session to another, a knowledge of the political wants of the country, and a tact and experience which talents or eloquence alone can never give. Will our readers reflect upon these remarks of the Independent?

A distinctive feature in the elections which have just passed in this country upon the next Congress, is the number of faithful representatives of the free States who have been triumphantly re-elected, while nearly all who have proved false to freedom have been rejected by their constituents.

In Indiana, we hope, the prevalence of a more rational and patriotic policy in the North, where we have too long allowed our political power and the security of our liberty, to be imperilled by the boy's play idea of allowing leading politicians to elect their own men at the privilege of public station—as though officers were but perqui-tes of ambitious individuals, when they ought to be held as solemn trusts for the good of the people.

We hope this new and better philosophy will be allowed to govern in the Congressional elections which are yet to take place, and that our people will not throw away the power for good which a faithful representative gains by experience, merely in order to gratify the longing of other aspirants who clamor for their turn, and not even for the sake of honoring others who may be equally deserving, but who lack the power to render their service effective which is derived from practical experience. To secure this result, good citizens should be careful to see to the primary meetings, where it often appears that conventions have been so packed that to avoid worse evils the people have been compelled to support candidates known to be not the best. Our friends in New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut, who have yet their Congressmen to elect, will do the country a service if they continue to support their present representatives who have stood firm for the truth and freedom.

With the African slave-trade already reopened, and slave traders countenanced by the courts, and the perilous schemes of aggression and aggrandizement to which the slave interest is urging a subservient Administration, it will be a public calamity to withdraw from Congress any of those tried and practiced veterans, who have been trained in the Kansas struggle both to stand their ground and to win their cause.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

MONDAY, Jan. 24.

Senate.

Mr. Updike presented the memorial of William C. Watson and others for the protection of useful birds, which was received and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

On motion of Mr. Fames, a resolution was passed suspending until further notice the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th of the joint rules.

Mr. Updike introduced an act in amendment of Title XXVII, chapter 187 of the Revised Statutes, "Of Wives, Witnesses, Depositions, and Evidence," which was received and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Fames submitted an act in amendment of chapter 273, entitled "An act relative to Banks and Institutions of Savings," and in repeal of Title XIX, chapter 128 of the Revised Statutes, which was read and passed.

Mr. Peck offered a resolution that the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to inquire what, if any, further legislation is necessary concerning the imprisonment of persons in county jails.

A communication was received from the Governor, transmitting the following: Letter from Jacob H. Martin, relative to weights and measures; Report of the Commissioner of the Narragansett Indians; Report of the Adjutant General of the Militia; Report of the Quartermaster General; Report of the Commissioners on the Mount Vernon Bank; Resolutions from South Carolina, approving the present light house system; which were severally referred to committees or ordered to be communicated to the House of Representatives.

Adjourned.

House of Representatives.

Mr. Wheaton of Providence presented the petition of the Bristol Fire Arms Company for an amendment of charter,—allowing it to transact business either in Bristol or Providence; which was received and referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. Sheffield of Newport presented the petition of George Pearce and others for an act of incorporation under the name of Bristol Ferry Steamboat Company, which was received and referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. Saunders of Scituate submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into the expediency of making certain amendments to the election law which was read and passed.

A resolution came down from the Senate suspending the fourth, sixth, seventh, and eighth of the joint rules and orders; which was read and passed in concurrence.

Mr. Sheffield of Newport, pursuant to previous notice, introduced a bill in relation to poor persons imprisoned for debt; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Sanford of Providence, gave notice that he should, on a subsequent day, ask leave to introduce an amendment to the chapter of the Revised Statutes in relation to fees and costs in certain cases.

Mr. Dexter Clark of Cumberland, submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to report forthwith upon the memorial of George H. Calvert and others in relation to the equity powers of the Supreme Court; which was read and passed, after having been supported by Mr. Van Zandt of Newport. (Mr. Greene of Providence in the chair.)

Mr. Van Zandt of Newport, gave notice that he should, on some subsequent day of the session, ask leave to introduce a bill declaratory of the powers of the General Assembly, embodying the doctrines of a report made to the House of Representatives in May last, and a bill in relation to holidays.

Mr. Van Zandt submitted a resolution granting the use of the hall of the House of Representatives to Rev. Charles W.
Denison for the purpose of delivering an address upon the working of the emancipa-tion act in the British West Indies, which was read and passed.

Mr. Sheffield of Newport, presented the petition of R. H. Conklin and others of Providence for the passage of an act incorporating a religious society; which was received and referred to the Committee on Education.

An act came down from the Senate, amending the chapters of the Revised Statutes in relation to proceedings in granting injunctions against banks so managing their affairs as to endanger the public interests; which was read and passed in concurrence.

Adjourned.

Crimes and Punishments.

Patrick Kelly, an Irishman addicted to intoxication, was found frozen to death in Ola on Tuesday, after having been missed from his home for nine days.

A young man named John Hart died in Washington last Thursday night by a painful accident. Returning home at a late hour, he attempted to climb over the pallage of the front yard, but slipped and was caught by the neck in such a manner that he was strangled to death. He dug in the endeavor to pull his mass from his dangerous position, tore the clothes entirely off from his body.

Scene in India.

They rushed, those Indian Sepoys, Like tigers, at their prey, Where one undaunted warrior Alone had barred their way.

With terrible cries, with uplifted swords, On rushed they, in fury, those savage hordes, Their sabres whirled in the air,
Of women who pleaded for mercy in vain.

Still the soldier stood firm, the courage high Of his own brave island flashed from his eye; Before him a pile of the slain lay crushed, But not a word that rampart the wild hordes rushed.

He saw it was vain, he turned in despair,
To gaze on a form kneeling lowly there.

Where the tropic sunlight rays Robed her form in golden haze, Where the Indian summer's heaven By the rebel's shouts was riven, Mingling with the breath of flowers, Gentle-like twined in orient bowers, Through the Christian's soft air Bore the Christian's voice of prayer.

With a cheek as snow-white,
With an eye of sunny glow,
With a pale uplifted brow, Hands clasped fondly on her breast, Where a fair babe lay at rest, Like some picture sacred fair, Knew the soldier's wife in prayer.

And now she rose, strengthened by holy faith,
With a woman's deep trust, 't encounter death;

She turned to her loved one—a vision bright, Passed swift as a dream o'er her spirit's sight,
Of her English home, of her mother's bower,
And the holy hymn sang at evening's hour,
Of her sister's laughter, the bridal hand, When she gave to her own both heart and hand.

He, who now gazed, in his agony wild,
On his cherished wife and his infant child;
And then with those hallowed memories came Strength to the young heart and the trembling frame.

She spoke; and but calm was her gentle tone,
As the bars of the portal broke one by one.

"Grieve not for me, my husband,— I do not shrink from death, I'll tread the darkened valley, Upheld by conquering faith;
And our bright smiling darling Shall, in unbroken rest, Be borne on angels' pinions,
To the Good Shepherd's breast."

"It is not joy 'midst anguish, To know we may not part,
But to the last together, We'll fall with heart to heart.
No doom of widow's grief,
But meet, with love undimmed, A death, though painful, brief."

"But leave us not to perish, My love! by other hands, By wild and fearful tortures Amidst those savage bands, Oh! clasp me to thy bosom, My place of last resort, Then draw the sword, beloved,
And slay it at each in my breast.
Tie give thy infant daughter Once more a father's kiss, And send her to the bowers Of everlasting bliss.
For Christ, the Lord hath called us, Strong be thine arm, my love,
To send us to His presence, Then follow us above."

He clasped to his bosom once more his love,
As he raised one last kiss on his baby's brow,
His head—it was done—his last silent vow.
Then agony rushed in to torture and slay, But, untouched, the fearless passed away.
O'er their lifeless forms the warm sunlight shone,
And a victory even in death was won.

ELLEN.

Personal.

The Springfield Republican reports that Ex-President Hitchcock, of Amherst College, the eminent geologist, is seriously ill.
He was attacked some ten days ago with the symptoms of lung fever, but on Friday last his disease had assumed a complicated and threatening form, his lungs having badly congested, with pneumonia and some inflammation of the kidneys. There was a consultation of physicians upon his case, Friday evening, and much anxiety was felt as to the termination of the illness.

SAGACITY OF A DOG.—One day during the recent sleighing, Mr. Eber Hart, of Brighton, harnessed a pair of spirited young horses to a sleigh partially loaded, for the city. The horses took right wing standing without a driver, and ran away.
A large mastiff owned by Mr. Hart saw the horses start and gave chase, pursuing for half a mile before he overtook the run-aways. He passed them, and by presenting himself in the track in front of them, endeavored to check their speed, but to no purpose; they actually ran faster for no purpose of the dog. Failing in this, the dog dropped out of the track, and following behind, he seized the reins, dragging upon the ground, and did not relax his hold until the team stopped. After he had been drawn for some distance, his pull became greater upon one line than the other, which drew the horses toward a fence, where they stopped. We are assured that this was an actual occurrence as stated.—Hoch-ester Union.

Two grave stones, belonging to a man in Elmira, N. Y., and already up in the burial ground over members of his family were attached for debt, a few days since, and sold at auction. The right thus to attach stones standing in a cemetery is being tested in the Courts of law in that place.

Consumption and Asthma Cured.
MILL'S BLOOD PURIFIER
This celebrated article of Borden Whiskey recently introduced, possesses many qualities of great merit, and has made many remarkable cures of Lung Complaints, consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, &c., as well as of disorders of the Liver. It is manufactured exclusively for the undersigned for medicinal purposes, and is prepared from the best of corn selected expressly for them. As a beverage it has no equal and has taken the preference of almost all Alcoholic liquors, MARTIN'S BLOOD

DRY UP.

Occasionally a really valuable medicine is suddenly introduced, and as suddenly acquires a high reputation. Such a medicine is Dr. Wadsworth's Dry Up,—which, by the way, we have no hesitation in pronouncing a cure for Catarrh in its worst form.
The Dry Up has been before the public but a few months, and yet it is already meeting with a rapid sale, both at home and abroad.
Like Dr. Wadsworth's Vegetable Croup Syrup, it has taken its place among the great and valuable standard medicines of the present day. The genuine article is offered for sale by that eminent and experienced Druggist and Chemist, Mr. H. H. Harrington, No.
61 North Main Street, ———, Providence, R. I.
Sold in Newport by H. H. YOUNG, Parade Corner, sole agent for this city.

THE THREE LIONS

OR

THE NEW YORK PRESS,

ALL

WRITING FOR THE LEDGER.

In addition to the MOUNT VERNON Papers, by the Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, the NEW-YORK LEDGER, dated Feb. 3, to be issued next week, will contain original contributions from the editors of the three leading daily journals of New York City; James Gordon Bennett, Esq., the veteran editor of the Herald; the Hon. Horace Greeley, of the Tribune; and Leut. Geo. Raymond, of the Times. From the pen of Mr. BEN-NETT, we have four original poems, entitled respectively, "LINES TO A LADY," "AN AN-GEL'S SMILE," and "A FLAGMENT." From Mr. GREELY we have an unexpected article, addressed to "YOUNG MEN IN THE COUNTRY, WHO DESIRE TO SEEK THEIR FORTUNE IN THE CITY." And from Mr. RAYMOND we have an interesting account of "A VISIT TO THE HOME OF JANE EYRE."
Also, a vast amount of interesting matter by the LEDGER regular corps of popular contributors; and the beginning of A NEW STORY.

XXXV CONFERS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.

HOUSE.

Mr. English from the post office committee, reported against granting the franking privilege to the Regents of the Mount Vernon Association.

Telegraph to Kansas.

New York, Jan. 25. The telegraph line has been completed to Leavenworth, Kansas, making a continuous communication from that city to New York. The first message received over the wire was received at the Herald office last evening.

Fire in New York.

New York, Jan. 25. The store No. 31 South Street was burnt last night, and the adjoining stores badly injured. It was occupied by Hawkins & Kelchum, Simpson & Mayhew, and others. Loss $40,000.
The property was insured at city offices.

A shocking scene was presented by an execution at Jerusalem, (of blessed memory), Va., on the 14th inst. The culprit was, Van Saunders. After he had been swung off the knot in the rope slipped, and the miserable half-executed man uttered groans and cries that would bring tears from stones. While the Sheriff was re-adjusting the rope, Saunders came to his senses, and in the most piteous tones implored for mercy, and begged that he might not be hanged again. But the sheriff told him he "must execute the law," and he did that and the poor wretch at the same instant.

The members of the Maine Legislature have a concert of sacred music every morning, fifteen minutes before the House organizes.

The office of Canal Commissioner has been abolished by the Legislature of Pennsylvania—the canals being sold.
